Topic: Managing the Unmanageable: Keeping the “Flagged” Diagnosis/High Risk Patient Out of the Hospital

Presenter: Martha Kern, CMO
Lifecare Innovations

Have you heard the term “hospital bounce back”? There are many diagnoses that create high risk for readmission and Medicare has devised a system of penalties to the discharging institutions. Health care professionals face the challenge of caring for these clients efficiently, discharging them safely, and hoping that their carefully developed plans do not fail.

- Identify high risk diagnoses and factors within hospital control
- Explore eight leading factors contributing to high risk for readmission
- Examine other factors undermining success and effective interventions
- Outline Medicare’s Community Based Transition Program

This presentation will give one CEU credit to nurses, social workers and nursing home administrators.

Breakfast will be served. Seating is limited at this event.
